REPUBLICAN MEETING LAST NIGHT.-The republicans of the city held a meeting last night at the old Court House for the purpose of hearing the report of the committee appointed at a previous meeting to confer with the chairman of the executive committee of the Mahore wing of the readjuster party to ascertain in what manner that party proposed to make nominations for the offices to be voted for at the general election, and endersing the action of the Staupton convention in putting a straightout republican electoral ricket in the field.

R. F. Tancil presided and H. L. Harris celed A. W. Harris from the committee appointed to confer with the chairman of the reacjuster committee, reported that the committee had waited upon that gentleman, and he had infermed them that the readjusters did not pro pose to hold a delegated convention, but that the executive committee and sub-committees of the party would meet on Monday night next for the purpose of nominating candidates for the different effe s to be voted for, and that all persons intending to support the candidates put forth at that meeting would be admitted and allowed a vote and voice in the selection of the stil candidates. A motion to receive and adopt the report excited considerable discussion. Geo. W. Hobday said he was disposed to favor the readjusters in some points, but he was in favor of requiring the same pledge from the reac justers that they required from the republieins. The question was if the republicion were in the majority at a reasjuster meeting and secceeded in nominating incir conditates, would the reachisters pledge themselves to support their candidates thus nominated? He did not believe hay would, for with them everything was readjoster, and old Mr. Peon bad to leave them because they were too hee on the roadjuster quasilip. He was opposed to allowing themserves to be drawn into the spare of the fowler. the whole thing and it was no use "trying to throw most into his nose." The resolution adopted at the reasjuster emmittee meeting didn't say anything about adowing anybody to ir meeting Menday night, and participate in the selection of cardidates, and they were not going to do it either, for that would be no convention at all. The readjusters were just eracking the old democratic whip.

James Dadley said he was at the readjuster's mosting when the resolution referred to was adopted, and he knew it was a dodge, for it came frem an editer.

The report was received, and a resolution adopted postponing the further consideration of the question of affiliation with the readjuster party until after that party nominates i s candidates for the offices to be veted for at the general election.

A motion being made that R. F. Tancil aderers the meeting, which Charles Seales onposed on the ground that this was no time to be listening to specches. The readjusters were not specen making, but they were preparing for the contest they were about to enter-holding private meetings in every sock and corner, &c If the readjusters required him to forsake the the devil. The motion was withdrawn. A resolution were then adopted endorsing the action of the Staunton convention, and pledging there support to Sampson P. Bayly, for Congress from this Congres ional district.

After the preliminary business, remarks were made by several members on prospect of fruits the coming sesson, and the general opinion was that there would be an abundance of all except peaches, which had been killed in some localities, but there would be a fair crop to the surrounding country through. The committee on excarsions reported and asked instructions, which were given to the effect that the first excursion of the season would be on the steamer Corceran on Friday, May 21. ANDRIA CHURCH .- Rev. L. H. Pearce, of the M. E. Church, in this city was at sunt from his pulpit last Sunday assisting at a courch dedica tion in Loudoun, and a strange minister took bis place. Mr. P. had just arranged a telephone between his house and the church, so that the members of his family who might have to remain at home from time to time during strices could hear the preaching. The contrivacce for collecting and massaitting the sound was fixed on a pedestal with a weighted foot so as to bel! it fi mly. It was placed on the platform near the pulpit. The wide black mouth of the tele-phone looked like the mouth of an immesse orngon ready to fire upon the audience. The people wing could see it watched it with tuspicion and unentia st. Every thing moved picture was closing his last prayer and was about to say "smen," when like a clap of thurder or the rear of a caroon, the mysterious objet on the pulpit seemed to "go off" and dis appeared. The effect on the audie: co can hardly be imagined. Was it the sound of the last trump? Had Gab.iel speken? or had some evil spirit used the arrangement on the platform to disturb the expenty of the hely place? The coegregation started from their knees es though the judgment had come sure enough. The preacher forgot he was praying, and, in his fright, without s ying the usual 'amen," turned to look with distended eyes at the ruins of the telephone. The organist, how ever took in the situation from the singers'

STRANGE MENDICANTS -The number of beggars in this city has for many years been ex cessive, and the acquisition of two additional ones in the shape of a man and woman who are going around the city soliciting money, is to be lamented. The man appears to be between fifty and sixty years (fage, smooth face, asoends porches very rimbly, is in perfect health, and from his demeaner appears to be anything but a povice in his profession. The woman generally sacaks around a corner or under the shadow of some porch while the man undertakes to . x. cite the sympa by of those they niect by telling his stories of want and poverty, no doubt superinduced, if they do exist, by his attempts or determination to except the Adamic eculence.

One of the number sheep and Lambs-Prices dropped to per lb the readjuster party by seing into their meeting carried a chantileger in his arms, and the rest afternoon, and paraded the streets, headed by and pledging themselves to support the candidates nominated by them. He saw through the whole thing and it was no use "trying to specifing for a set too. The man who acted as captain of the crowd, with a small tin sword in his hand, out up a great many monkey shices, sed finelly dateed himself into a King sirce: e har, much to the amusement of a growd of little boys who followed the gang around.

> HYDRAULION FIRE COMPANY .- The regular menthly meeting of the Hydraulion S. F. E. Co. was held at the hall of the company last night, with Vice President R. L. Carno in the chair and John Laucon Secretary.

A resolution was adopted requesting the City Council to repaye the square on Royal street, between King and Cameron. This action was taken because of the feet that the quare named is so rough that the steam engine, of the com pacy in pessing over it, on its way to a fice is in danger of being it i ared. After the transaction of considerable rautice business the meeting adjourned.

ANOTHER COW STRUCK.-The worth bound train on the Alexandria and Fredericks. burg Rei road, yesterday evening, struck a cow belonging to Mr. A. J. Nicholson, which was standing on the track, just above the grave rejublican party, he would tell then to go to yards, and mashed her up considerably. The practice of ellowing cows to run at large by the people living near the railroad track is much complained of, and it will be a hard matter for owners to secure damages from the company for animals killed by passing trains.

THE PIONEER MILLS AT AUCTION,-The Pioneer Mills will be offered for sale by public scution to morrow. This fice property, original. ly erected at a great expense and fitted up with all the newest machinery, has lain idle for many years, and now that smoke is seen to ascend once more from the chimnies of what were once Alexandria's lecomotive works, the hope is indulged that the hum of the machinery of these mills will be heard again ere long.

GOOD TEMPLARS. - The officers of Golden Light Lodge of Good Templars, elected at a previous meeting, were installed Monday night two promissory notes upon leaving certified last by the lodge deputy, Mr. Giles A. Penick. A delegation from Washington, consisting of the officers of the Grand Lodge of the District of Columbia, will visit the lodge next Monday night, and preparations are being made for their entertainment.
